What is this thing called NIIMS? 43(1):9–11.

Zimmerman, G. Thomas.
Preliminary guidelines for broadcast burning lodgepole pine slash in Colorado. 43(1):17–22. ■

Subject Index 1982

Aviation

Fire retardants and aerial delivery systems—performance and use. 43(1):12–16.
Monitoring aircraft in flight on Payette National Forest. 43(4):10.
Retardant dropping in the Forest Service Northern Region. 43(2):10–13.

Cooperation

Contracting for fire protection on National Forests in Nevada. 43(2):5–9.
High-quality, low-cost equipment for rural departments in Florida. 43(2):19–20.
Interagency fire disaster drill. 43(2):3–4.
International seminar on forest fire prevention and control in Warsaw. 43(3):18–21.
The National Interagency Incident Management System. 43(4):8.
Prescribed burning assistance program combats incendiary wildfire. 43(3):27.
Revolving loan program improves rural fire protection in Arkansas. 43(2):19.
What is this thing called NIIMS? 43(1):9–11.

Equipment and Computer Systems

A belt weather kit accessory for measuring woody fuel moisture. 43(3):25–26.
Archiving remote automatic weather station data. 43(3):3–5.
Fire-weather station maintenance—how good is it? 43(3):14–17.
Fire retardants and aerial delivery systems—performance and use. 43(1):12–16.
High-quality, low-cost equipment for rural departments in Florida. 43(2):19–20.
Plastic sheaths reduce danger and wear on firefighting handtools. 43(2):18.
Retardant dropping in the Forest Service Northern Region. 43(2):10–13.
The scan extender—a device to enhance the capabilities of the AGA 750 thermovision. 43(3):22–24.

Fire Behavior

A belt weather kit accessory for measuring woody fuel moisture. 43(3):25–26.
Archiving remote automatic weather station data. 43(3):3–5.
Fire-weather station maintenance—how good is it? 43(3):14–17.
New ways to use fire-danger rating now available. 43(2):16–17.
Why programs RxWTHR and RxBURN won't run: a checklist of common errors. 43(4):18.

Fuels Management

Drafting guidelines to manage forest residues. 43(4):12.
Line production estimating guides for fire behavior for fuel models. 43(3):6–9.
Predicting prescribed burning costs of wildlife habitat management. 43(4):20.
Preliminary guidelines for broadcast burning lodgepole pine slash in Colorado. 43(1):17–22.
The dilemma of flame length and intensity. 43(4):3.
The fuel management training series. 43(3):10–13.
Use of M-4 fuel thickener in prescribed burning. 43(4):27.
Why programs RxWTHR and RxBURN won't run: a checklist of common errors. 43(4):18.
Wildland fire on Guam. 43(1):3–6.

General Fire Management

Drafting guidelines to manage forest residues. 43(4):12.
International seminar on forest fire prevention and control in Warsaw. 43(3):18–21.
New system developed for appraising wildfire effects. 43(4):23.
Predicting prescribed burning costs of wildlife habitat management. 43(4):20.
Preliminary guidelines for broadcast burning lodgepole pine slash in Colorado. 43(1):17–22.
Revolving loan program improves rural fire protection in Arkansas. 43(2):19.
Use of M-4 fuel thickener in prescribed burning. 43(4):27.

Publications

A new book: Fire in America. 43(2):21.
Author index 1980. 43(1):24.
Author index 1981. 43(1):26.
1981 list of research publications. 43(2):22.
Recent fire publications. 43(1):23; 43(2):21; 43(3):28; 43(4):31.
Report evaluates fire management programs. 43(4):29.
Subject index 1980. 43(1):25.
Subject index 1981. 43(1):27.

Presuppression

A belt weather kit accessory for measuring woody fuel moisture. 43(3):25–26.
Contracting for fire protection on National Forests in Nevada. 43(2):5–9.
Fire-weather station maintenance—how good is it? 43(3):14–17.
The National Interagency Incident Management System. 43(4):8.
What is this thing called NIIMS? 43(1):9–11.

Safety

California's unique Department of Forestry Fire Academy. 43(1):7–8.
Plastic sheaths reduce danger and wear on firefighting handtools. 43(2):18.

Suppression

Coaches and cadre—new concepts in fire suppression training. 43(2):14–15.
The dilemma of flame length and intensity. 43(4):3.
Wildland fire on Guam. 43(1):3–6.

Techniques and Management Systems

Archiving remote automatic weather station data. 43(3):3–5.
Drafting guidelines to manage forest residues. 43(4):12.
Line production estimating guides for fire behavior for fuel models. 43(3):6–9.
Monitoring aircraft in flight on Payette National Forest. 43(4):10.
New system developed for appraising wildfire effects. 43(4):23.
New ways to use fire-danger rating now available. 43(2):16–17.
Predicting prescribed burning costs of wildlife habitat management. 43(4):20.
Retardant dropping in the Forest Service Northern Region. 43(2):10–13.
The National Interagency Incident Management System. 43(4):8.
Use of M-4 fuel thickener in prescribed burning. 43(4):27.
What is this thing called NIIMS? 43(1):9–11.

Training

California's unique Department of Forestry Fire Academy. 43(1):7–8.
Coaches and cadre—new concepts in fire suppression training. 43(2):14–15.
Interagency fire disaster drill. 43(2):3–4.
National Advanced Resource Technology Center FY 1983 Schedule. 43(2):23.
The fuel management training series. 43(3):10–13. ■
